Rebuilding Homes for the Survivors of Srebrenica, Bosnia-Herzegovina

Date 27 December 2009

I went to see Lady Thatcher in 1992 when the first refugees fled into Slovenia from the Serb forces.

She advised me to form a charity to help these refugees and agreed to become its Patron.

Since that time, following all the destruction and ethnic cleansing that took place in Bosnia, I have devoted my time and energy to providing medicine to hospitals during the war, and to rebuilding houses for the victims of the Srebrenica massacre.

Since 1992, with the generous donations of our supporters, the charity has built 101 houses, 17 schools, 1 surgery and 1 music school. The charity's aim at present is to raise funding for the building of new houses at a cost of £20,000 each.

To that end, a fundraiser will be held on Tuesday 23rd February 2010, with a reception in the State Apartments followed by a dinner in the Great Hall of the Royal Hospital, Chelsea.

We are honoured that the RT Hon William Hague MP has agreed to be the keynote speaker at this event.

The situation of the refugees remains extremely dire and their need is great.

I appeal to you to help us reach our goal by attending the dinner or by making a donation to the charity. It must continue its vital role in the future years.
